Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to formally express my interest in the full time Quantitative Analyst of Football Operations position for the Philadelphia Eagles. As a junior statistics major at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln with a passion for sports and a strong background in statistical modeling and programming, I am eager to use my skills to make meaningful contributions to fans, players, and staff throughout the organization.

From an early age, I have been fascinated by the convergence of sports and data analysis. This passion has only grown throughout my collegiate career, where I have gained hands-on experience in coding and statistical analysis. Through coursework in statistics and practical application of programming languages such as R, Python, and SAS, I have developed a solid foundation in data manipulation, visualization, and predictive modeling.

In addition to my technical skills, my ability to work effectively in a team environment has been demonstrated through various group projects and extracurricular activities. I have never been one to shy away from collaboration, looking for varying perspectives to improve any project I am a part of. My dedication to teamwork, coupled with my strong work ethic and communication skills, enables me to consistently deliver high-quality results.

What sets me apart is my genuine love for football. I have always been a football enthusiast, with a lifelong goal of being a part of a storied professional operation such as the Eagles. Whether it's improving player performance, predicting game outcomes, or enhancing fan engagement, I am committed to using data-driven insights to improve decision-making in the sports industry. Bringing strong analytical skills and enthusiasm for football, I look forward to contributing to impactful projects while further developing my career in this thrilling field.

I am excited about the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and love of sports align with the needs of the Philadelphia Eagles. I am available for an interview at your earliest convenience and can be reached at dominicsander@gmail.com or by phone at (402)560-2531. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Dominic Sander
